

Become A Friend of The Lavender Touch

'A Borders charity helping people in the Borders with Cancer'

The Lavender Touch, founded in 2003 has, over the last 5 years, helped hundreds of families. We work in conjunction with NHS Borders by providing complimentary therapy treatments to cancer patients living anywhere in the Scottish Borders area. These treatments help manage the symptoms of the disease and some of the side effects of other treatments. For example it can help with insomnia, lethargy, nausea, muscle aches and pains and the feelings of anxiety associated with having cancer.

How can you help?

Each year the charity needs to raise in excess of £20,000 to provide these complimentary therapies for 1 year and this increases all the time as requests for our treatments grow. This is due to the 99% positive feedback on the service and we have become victims of our own success! As we want to keep this valuable service running, and would like to expand it through time, we are launching a campaign to find 1,000 people who would kindly agree to donate £20 (or more) to us each year on the 1st. June. This will ensure the continuation of the service and give us the opportunity to take it forward and develop it.

Please visit our website for more information www.lavendertouch.co.uk

Would you possibly consider donating to us yearly? If so, thank you very much. Your generosity is greatly appreciated.
